Abstract

Founded in 1980, the Journal of Economic and Taxonomic Botany (JETB) has been a pedestal for researchers in India and the subcontinent in representing their work internationally. JETB is a refereed and peer reviewed, quarterly, international journal, which aims to disseminate the knowledge and research carried out in the fields of Economic Botany, Ethnobotany, Ethnopharmacology, Plant Geography, and Plant Taxonomy. Special issues are published, from time to time, on specific contemporary themes, thus offering scope for scientists of insightful recent developments and advances in the fields listed above.
